ACUI Clays Bowl Series Prepares for the 2026 Fall West Coast Conference Championships

137 athletes, 686 event entries, and three days of competition

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colorado — ACUI Clay Targets, in partnership with the Scholastic Clay Target Program (SCTP), is preparing for the 2026 Fall West Coast Conference Championships, November 13–15 at Pikes Peak Gun Club. The event will bring together 137 collegiate athletes representing 13 college programs to compete in Trap, Doubles Trap, Skeet, Double Skeet, Sporting Clays, and Super Sporting.

As one of 10 collegiate Bowl Series events hosted by ACUI and SCTP, the tournament gives athletes a chance to showcase their skills and connect with teams from across the conference.

“We are eager to see new and familiar faces this weekend,” said Taylor Blechschmid, clay targets program manager at ACUI. “Our student-athletes embody what makes collegiate clay target shooting so special, bringing together a passion for the sport, a commitment to competition, and a strong sense of community. We look forward to another great weekend of shooting and connecting with athletes and teams from across the country.”

Schedule of Events Friday, November 13 – Double Skeet, Doubles Trap Saturday, November 14 – American Skeet, Sporting Clays Sunday, November 15 – American Trap, Super Sporting

About ACUI Clay Targets

The ACUI Clay Targets program was established in 1968 and is the oldest collegiate shotgun sports program. For nearly six decades, the program has evolved from a national championship event to a robust program, offering regional events from October through March each year in addition to the ACUI Collegiate Clay Targets Championships. Association of College Unions International (ACUI) is the professional home to thousands of campus community builders around the world.

About the Scholastic Clay Target Program

SCTP provides student athletes from elementary through high school and college with the opportunity to participate in the fun and challenging sports of Trap, Skeet and Sporting Clays, as well as the Olympic disciplines of Bunker Trap and International Skeet.
